

Sinclair Broadcasting's plan to force their affiliates to air anti-Kerry programming is a sad example of larger corporations forcing the agenda on the average citizen.

Governance by the FCC is a good thing to oversee and correct such flagrant biased use of a publicly funded vehicle. I object to personally paying for something that benefites a group which blackmails local stations into promoting corporate leaderships views.

I believe media corporations were only allowed in the past to own eleven local stations to prevent monopolizing markets resulting in biased use of a public service. In view of what's happening with Sinclair perhaps we should go back to that. Thank you.
